The 'Elk' Barbecue House is the perfect addition to your garden, combining a Summer House and Barbecue in one building. It allows year round entertainment without all the drawbacks of trying to arrange a day round our British Summers. This barbecue house is designed to seat 10 people. The Building is constructed in timber frame having a 22mm thick tongue and groove cladding and supplied with all fixings, latches, hinges and handles required for assembly, instructions for self-build are supplied. Leisure Buildings can also arrange to have your Barbecue House assembled on site. All buildings are supplied with granite top BBQ table and chimney as standard.
